Quality
Work You
Can Trust

Rangel Construction Company, LLC. is built on honesty, integrity, and pride of workmanship.

You will be communicating with the company's owner, Robert Rangel, directly from the beginning to the end of the project. Robert will assure the proposed scope meets your requirements, overall costs are controlled to meet your budget, and the finished product meets your expectations.

All projects have a one year warranty related to defects in materials and labor unless indicated otherwise. We use current industry standards for materials and construction techniques.

Every project includes disposal of waste materials and site cleanup related to the project.
